WOODLAWN FARMERS' CLUB.

(Reported for the Alexandria Gazette.)

The February meeting of the Woodlawn

Farmers' Club was held at John Ballinger's on the 5th inst., President Pierson in the chair. When the minutes of last meeting were read a member thought the portion in reference to our condemnation of the proposed appropriation by the State Legislature for agricultural societies was not strong enough; but it was suggested as the matter would be acted on at the coming convention in Alexandria, a good chance would be had for further denunciations on the subject.

C. Lukens read an article from the New York Tribune in which the writer thought a new agricultural dictionary was needed to define the true meaning of some of the modern isms and nostrums that are confronting the farmers.

A report from the committee in reference to holding a farmers' convention was received, stating arrangements had been made to hold one at Lannon's Opera House, Alexandria, Va., on the 8th of February at ten a. m. A number of prominent farmers in different sections had been selected to prepare essays on various subjects connected with farming, for presentation at the meeting, the said subjects having been announced in the Fairfax and Alexandria papers. The report was approved and the committee continued to carry out the programme, which included arrangements for refreshments. Charles Gibbs, having been elected a member at this meeting, was appointed master of ceremonies—or whatever title may attach to the position—with power to select assisants. A. W. Harrison and J. N. Gibbs were designated to wait upon the Ladies' House keepers Association with an invitation for their co-operation in this matter to the end that they would, in addition to gracing the occasion with their presence, assist in providing refreshments. The invitation was accepted. The president read letters from

H. C. Hallowell and R. B. Farquhar in response to invitations to be present at the convention. They regretted other arrangements would prevent their coming, but they would be with us in sympathy.

The query was raised whether corn smut was so far injurious to stock as to cause death. Also, whether boys ever killed horses. In both cases a diversity of opinion existed.

The critical report was read, in which the committee admitted their inability to find
